Subject: Who says crime does not pay?

Hi All,

this "agreement" or whatever the legal term is makes a mockery of the legal system.

Proof again that "might makes right".

Microsoft as been doing this for years and getting away with it, leaving a long list of victims in their wake:

Stacker
QEMM
IBM's OS/2
BeOS
Office Suites - Wordperfect, Lotus
Netscape

To name a few. In any other industry these tactics would not have been consider dumping or worse.

Your office has succeeded in sending a clear signal to the next would be rouge to keep on trucking they will win AND be richer in the end.

Cheers,
Stavros.
